Policies for reproduced scanned images

The Special Collections and University Archives Department will provide images for scanning from its holdings when possible. All requests for over 5 images will require approval from the Special Collections and University Archives Department. Under certain circumstances related to University business, and on a case by case basis, the Department will develop a varying fee structure for documentary and extremely large orders.

Departmental staff will do scanning for student coursework and projects or faculty curriculum development. Patrons will need to provide their own storage medium (flash drive or CDs) or the Department will transfer the images to CD for a fee. Patrons will complete the "Request for Reproduced Images" form and the "Request to Publish" form and submit with requested images. Special Collections and University Archives must be cited as the source for the scanned images, and a digital watermark will be placed on the image to indicate its copyright status. Patrons must have permission from the Special Collections and University Archives Department before mounting any image on a website. Patrons will provide the URL information to the Department as well as provide a link from the Department's citation to the Department webpage.

After submission of the appropriate paperwork and payment, the Department will provide the images within 2 weeks, depending on the Department's schedule. For rush orders, an additional fee will be assessed. NOTICE: Warning Concerning Copyright Restrictions

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of copies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order, if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.30
